Sally was a regular kid, just like you. She enjoyed playing baseball, cheerleading and going to school. She grew up in a Christian home, so she heard about Jesus when she was very young. She also knew a couple who were missionaries in Thailand. Sally and her family prayed for them.

When Sally was in high school, she took her first mission trip overseas to work with her missionary friends in Thailand. Sally says, “I was changed forever. I saw the need for Jesus, and I saw the love of Jesus that those missionaries provided. I just knew that someday I would be back on the mission field somehow.”

While Sally was in college, she continued to pray and give and connect with missionaries. When she found out about the opportunity to go to Mozambique, she was ready to be obedient and follow God.

She stayed in Mozambique for two years, telling the children there about Jesus. She is thankful that she started learning about and giving to missions when she was young. She has been able to serve God her whole life and today is ready to go wherever God sends her.
