

What's IWC?

International World Changers (IWC) provides high school and college students with a short-term missions experience in another country. They work with missionaries to meet the spiritual and physical needs of people.

