

Learning and giving

Missionaries and Christian workers give a lot of time to learn as much as they can about the people with whom they work. They often learn about the culture by observing what their people do on daily basis. What can you observe about the Lhomi people?

How do the Lhomi dress?

What are Lhomi houses like?

What do the Lhomi eat?

What type of work do the Lhomi do?

Do the Lhomi seem friendly?

What other observations can you make?

What are you willing to give so more Lhomi will hear about Jesus?
