

The Karamojong people are very poor and work very hard. Here a little boy watches his mother grind corn.

Missionary Robert Lane is gently holding a Karamojong baby. He and his family minister in Uganda and South Sudan.

In South Sudan, this man enjoys studying the Bible with missionaries.

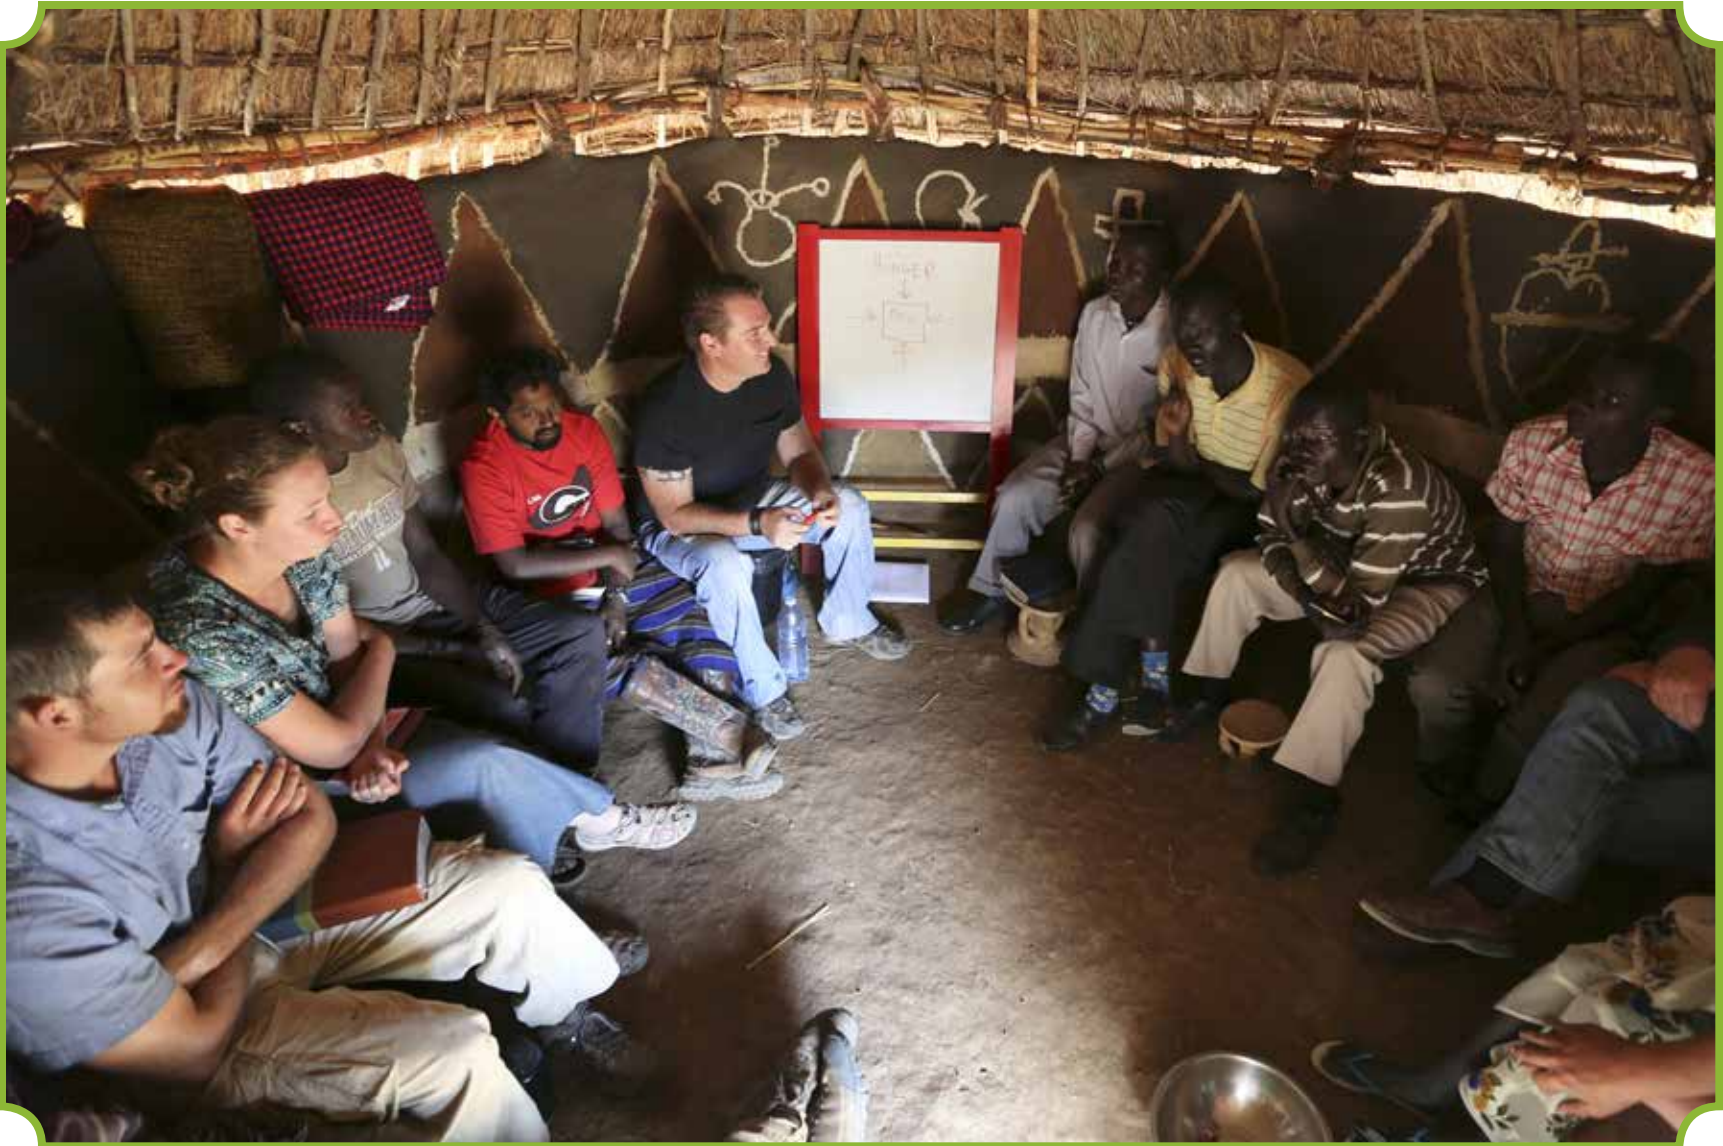

The Karamojong people wear colorful beads and clothes. They make almost all clothing and food by hand.

Missionaries meet with friends in a Karamajong hut.

